

Kasama sa Kalusugan Program

Empowering Youth for Healthier Communities

At Kasama sa Kalusugan, we believe that young people have the power to positively impact the health of our communities.

In this program, young volunteers are trained and mentored to become Youth Health Influencers. They learn to share health information effectively and engage with their peers on various health topics. These Youth Health Influencers serve as health companions to their peers, guiding them toward available health resources and services.

The program aims to create a network of empowered youth influencers who can drive positive health behaviors and attitudes in their communities. We believe that by working together, we can create a healthier future for all of us.
